Trout in the Classroom

Battle Monument Elementary School

Dwight Easterly, Principal
Diana Stansburge, Grant Liaison

Environmental Literacy, STEM & Global Awareness

The main focus is to teach students about all the materials needed to support the growth of trout while introducing the students to many aspects of the environment they live in and the trout as another part of their environment.

- Training stage: included pictures, books and materials.
- All students created fish art work for the school.
- Lessons were given on how to sustain the trout's life.
- Pictures identify stage growth.
- The release of trout next school year will help students understand the environment.
