The BCPS Film EXPO provided a unique platform of exposure for the creative work of BCPS students working in media arts. This event connected them with local and national industry professionals, local universities, and inspired a large number of BCPS students to invest their creative energy and work ethic into using technologically advanced tools for creative and critical forms of artistic expression. Students who participated in this event were challenged to create a professional product worth exhibiting in a professional environment and in the process of doing so gained immense experiential and educational knowledge in concept design, project execution, community involvement, public engagement, technical mastery, advocacy, public speaking, networking, and collaboration.
